The Collector's Cake

Jude has made birthday cakes for family members, but never in the shape of a recycling bin! Despite the cake's theme it left the household on tip toes waiting for a slice!

The chocolate stack squished together with rainbow coloured icing that oozed out into the taster's mouth. The sponge was light, moist and delicious - it was a bin-shaped sensation!

Overall, it was a beautiful tasting cake with a beautiful message. If Jude would want to improve it, he would craft the sign out of more icing.
