Dr. Seuss

Dear Parents/Guardian

FOSHJS are delighted to announce the details of this years sponsored read! This will be launched in school by Mrs Griffiths on Monday 14th February and will run until World Book Day on Thursday 3rd March, we are asking every child to complete a Sponsored Read Challenge Card which will be given to each child next week. There is no sponsorship form and no extra bits of paper to complete, all donations are taken online using the link below.

The challenges are not just to read as much as possible (which is always encouraged) but to take time to vary where they read and who with in order to complete the card and raise money to improve our school library. We have set up a donation page to help facilitate the sponsorship for the event. This link can be shared amongst friends and family to help raise funds.

Why are we fund raising? Our school library is in desperate need of new shelving and furniture to make it a more welcoming space for reading. With ever increasing pressure on school budgets, the money for this project will need to come from extra events supported and run by FOSHJS

The estimated cost is £3000 and every penny helps get to that target. So whether you sponsor your child for one book, a few books or to complete the whole card everything is welcome and the sky's the limit!

Each child that raises funds and records their reading on the challenge card will be presented with a book mark at the end of the event to recognise their efforts. We will then put all returned challenge cards in a hat and pick a winner from each year group for a special prize. All cards should be returned by Thursday 3rd March at the latest.

Good luck and we look forward to seeing the results!
